Senator Byrd Speaking
A Report on Naval Affairs

The speech that Senator Harry F. Byrd, Virginia Democrat, delivered in the senate on the Navy bill authorizing construction of aircraft carriers rather than battleships marks an historical moment for the nation. And following our custom of printing an occasional outstanding speech we give you some of his text.

Members Can't Issue Warrants Court Decides

Little Rock, July 6 (AP)—With Chief Justice Griffin Smith dissenting vigorously, the Supreme Court held today that its members had no constitutional authority to issue search and seizure warrants.

The ruling, handed down in an original action, quashed a warrant issued by the chief justice under authority of which state police raided offices of the Reliable Publishing Company in North Little Rock last March and seized equipment which they contended was used in gambling operations.

Henry Levy, North Little Rock sports promoter and owner of the publishing company, challenged the warrant on grounds that it was unauthorized and violated the Bill of Rights provisions of the federal constitution. Levy contended that telegraph ticker equipment seized in the raid was used only in disseminating sporting information.

"The owner of the device seized is not a gambling device," the Supreme Court said. "There is no question of fact as to whether the property seized is a gambling device. The determination of that question of fact involved the exercise of an act of original jurisdiction which judges of the Supreme Court do not possess."

"Had the warrant in question here been issued by any one of the circuit judges presiding in Pulaski county, or by any one of the many justices of the peace holding offices in that county, these officers or any of them issuing the writ, could determine this question of fact by exercising the original jurisdiction given them by the constitution."

"The Supreme Court further ruled that peace officers had no authority to issue such warrants 'the issuance of which involves a judicial function.'"

The warrant which the chief justice issued in the Levy case was similar to the one which he issued in 1937 for seizure of alleged gambling equipment at Club Belvedere and other establishments in and near Hot Springs during the early part of the Bailey administration. Similar warrants were used by the state police last fall in a series of raids along Hot Springs' principal thoroughfare after Governor Adkins ordered public gambling in the state stopped.

"The chief justice made reference to these Hot Springs raids in his dissenting opinion which said in part:

"As the judge who issued the warrants now questioned and others not in issue; and one who under express authority of a statute imposing such duty responded to affidavits regularly presented (in consequence of which nearly a score of gambling houses were raided in Hot Springs in 1937 and 30,000 worth of equipment at Belvedere, Southern club, and other notorious halls was appropriated, and destroyed after sufficient time had been allowed to permit operators to question the procedure; I concede that a strict construction such as the court has placed on the constitution would produce the results Henry Levy has been able to procure. But I contend that article seven, section four of the federal constitution should receive the liberal interpretation of which it is susceptible, thereby reserving to the authority designated by the general assembly the right to interfere when there is jurisdiction."

In contending for legality of the warrants, the chief justice declared:

"Why, then, must society be controlled by judicial gassamer, the effect of which is to satisfy, pacify, and fortify commercial gamblers? although, of course, this radical consequence is not intended?"

"Informed citizens are not

American Planes Teach Japs Few Things in China

—War in Pacific

By The Associated Press

American warplanes, flashing through the far Pacific skies in growing numbers, were declared today to be teaching the Japanese a cautious new respect in the battle of China and crippling any Japanese attempt to mass for an invasion of Australia.

Military dispatches said the Japanese, after bombing the helpless Chinese with impunity through five years of war, were now switching to night aerial attacks in an effort to avoid the fierce resistance encountered from fliers of the new U. S. Army 23rd pursuit group in China.

In a communiqué No. 1, United States headquarters announced that the newly established American air force, swinging quickly into action, inflicted heavy blows on Japanese airfields at Hankow, Nanchang and Canton over a four-day period starting July 1.

On the ground, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies were reported to have struck back at the Japanese captors of Inwang, in Kiangsi province, retaking the town after the enemy had held it only 24 hours.

Chinese dispatches said then counter-attacks had weakened Japanese efforts to trap large Chinese forces in central Kiangsi, and declared 25-mile gap between their columns driving along the strategic Kiangsi-Chekiang railway.

On the eve of the sixth year since the bloody "China incident" broke out July 7, 1937, Gen. Chiang's armies appeared to be stiffening against the invaders, encouraged anew by Prime Minister Churchill's promise that Britain would give China "every material, moral and spiritual help" possible.

President Roosevelt also called Gen. Chiang "on this anniversary of the most despicable attack on you in all your long and noble history," and declared:

"Increasingly, your arms and our arms will thrust back the enemy."

In the battle of Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that Allied bombers, ranging far out over southwest Pacific waters, again pounded Japanese "invasion" bases in northeast New Guinea, Timor and the Solomon Islands.

Twenty-seven Japanese heavy bombers and six fighters attacked the Allied outpost at Port Moresby, New Guinea, but inflicted only light damage and casualties.

Flying Tigers Escort Bombers

Chungking, July 6 (AP)—Swinging quickly into action, the newly established American air force in China inflicted destructive initial blows upon Japanese air fields at Hankow, Nanchang and Canton, U. S. headquarters announced today in a communiqué number one.

Escorted by Flying Tigers of the Volunteer Group, a squadron of bombers opened the assaults with a raid on Hankow July 1, another on Nanchang the next day and the third on Canton on the Fourth of July.

At all three places hangars and runways were pummeled and at Kankow and Nanchang direct hits

U. S. Submarines Sink 3 Japanese Destroyers, Leave a Fourth Burning

Washington, July 6 — (AP) — The Navy announced today that United States submarines had sunk three Japanese destroyers in the Aleutian islands July 4 and had left a fourth destroyer "burning fiercely."

A communiqué based on information received up to 12:30 p. m. Eastern War Time, today said:

"North Pacific area:

"1. On the Fourth of July, U. S. submarines torpedoed four Japanese destroyers in the Aleutian islands.

"2. Three of these destroyers were attacked at Kiska. Two were sunk and the third, when last seen, was burning fiercely.

"3. The fourth destroyer was torpedoed and sunk at Agattu where enemy transports and escorting vessels were located on July 2 and were attacked by Army bombers."

Today's Navy report raised Japan's losses in her efforts to establish occupation forces on the western Aleutians to five ships sunk, and nine damaged, including an aircraft carrier.

All the attacks prior to the Independence Day submarine offensive had been made by Army and Navy aircraft which have been limited in their operations by the infrequency of favorable weather.

Sharp Quits WPA Position

Little Rock, July 6 (AP)—Floyd Sharp will leave the position of state WPA administrator July 15 or August 1 to become a state utilities commissioner, succeeding Ben E. Carter, Texarkana, who resigned to campaign for a Supreme Court seat.

Governor Adkins, who announced his appointment, said Sharp would assume his duties on the commission as soon as he wound up his work with WPA.

Sharp, 46, will receive $5,000 a year compared to his WPA salary of $6,000 annually. He has been head of the WPA in Arkansas since Jan. 16, 1938. He is an attorney but still retains membership in the typographical union, having once been a printer on Little Rock and Hot Springs newspapers.

Informed sources said Sharp would be succeeded by Henry Baker, Sharp's assistant, as acting administrator's nomination of a permanent successor.

"The three utility commissioners will elect a chairman, the post held by Carter."

Halifax Returns to London for Talks

London, July 6 (AP)—Lord Halifax, British ambassador to Washington, has returned to London and was scheduled to confer today with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, the foreign office disclosed.

The ambassador flew from the United States.

He is expected to remain here about a month.

Two Arkansas Fatalities

Nelson Against Use of Grain in Synthetic Rubber

—Washington

Washington, July 6 (AP)—War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson protested today against a proposed program to produce synthetic rubber from grain on the ground that it would require critical materials "urgently needed for the war effort."

Opposing a bill calling for creation of a rubber supply agency to direct manufacture of synthetic rubber from grain alcohol, Nelson told a Senate Agriculture Subcommittee sponsoring the measure that construction of such distilleries would require copper and steel.

"Every pound of copper and steel taken away from our present supply," he asserted, "would hinder the war program. And that is of paramount interest."

Further, by placing production of synthetic rubber under an agency director, you would take from the president his control over priorities. This director could do anything he wanted to direct the flow of materials needed for war."

Accordingly, Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) assured Nelson the committee would defer action until Nelson could present additional objections within a week.

An accusation by Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) that the War Production board was "doing nothing about the production of synthetic rubber from alcohol" drew an emphatic denial from Nelson.

"We are doing something about it and when I appear before the committee again I will make a statement about that situation," Nelson declared.

Nelson said that a program had been approved requiring production of 700,000 tons of synthetic rubber which he believed sufficient to cover essential needs.

(Pick up early action third graph)

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Early Senate action to increase domestic production of synthetic rubber through use of alcohol from surplus farm products appeared likely today as an agriculture subcommittee called for testimony from War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson.

Senator Gillette (D-Ia) served notice he intended to ask immediate consideration of a bill to create a separate rubber supply agency with specific directions emphasizing the agricultural alcohol process.

Gillette, chairman of the subcommittee, which was heard witnesses criticize federal rubber officials for relying chiefly on petroleum sources for synthetic rubber.

Power Hurts State Plants

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Representative Ellis (D-Ark) returning to Arkansas today to resume his campaign for the United States Senate, said a lack of power in his state had prevented location of a munitions plant and a lead and zinc smelter.

"The war production program in Arkansas is at a standstill because of a lack of power," he said.

Previously Ellis said, power shortages caused disapproval of Arkansas locations for a synthetic rubber plant, chemical plant and shell loading plant.

He said he was told in conferences with the federal power commission and other agencies that the smelter would require 5,000 kilowatts of power and the munitions plant 10,000 kilowatts.

Star Is 15c a Week at Suburban Points

Effective Monday, July 6, the price of Hope Star delivered by carrier each afternoon in six neighboring towns is the same as the home-delivered price in Hope—15c per week.

For several years The Star maintained an introductory rate at out-of-town points, but all carrier-delivery subscriptions now are 15c a week.

Carrier boys in Prescott, Emmet, Fulton, Lewisville, Washington and Ozark now will collect and settle with the newspaper office on the same basis as the 20 carriers in the city. There has been no change in the price of the newspaper—the 15c weekly rate simply being made uniform in justice to all subscribers.

China Begins Sixth Year of Warfare

Chungking, Tuesday, July 7 — (AP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek marked the start of a sixth year with Japan today with a broadcast in which he declared that "by the end of this winter Japan's strength will be only one-tenth of that of the Allies."

He thanked the United Nations for their unflinching concern and collaboration and declared that Japan, plunging deeper and deeper into the morass of Chinese resistance "now is beyond recovery."

Big Scale U. S. Airblows Seen

London, July 6 (AP)—American air blows against Germany will develop rapidly on a scale never before envisioned now that the United States air force has spread its wings over Nazi-held territory, military experts predict today.

The July fourth opening of an American air front in Europe, they said, meant that at least half of the ground preparation to put the air force into active service had been completed.

They expected the modest beginning, in which six American-bombed Boston bombers took part in a daring daylight sweep on German-held Holland, to mushroom into a full-scale aerial onslaught.

"The main factor in opening any new air front is the immense amount of work which must be done before even one plane can be put into the air," one expert said.

"Once this ground organization is set up, as the first flight by the American indicates that it is, actual operations can be expanded at an extremely rapid rate."

United States army planes now are fighting on all the world's fronts except Russia and there are factors on the European front which favor it for swift development over those in the orient and Mediterranean areas.

The actual flying of planes to England from America is a matter of hours, rather than of days, and the transport of pilots is correspondingly rapid.

A large increase in the number of American pilots seen in London has occurred in the past week.

F.B.I. Returns Bund Chiefton

New York, July 6 — (AP)—German Wilhelm Kunze, German-American band chieftain captured in Mexico after a federal grand jury charged him with plotting to aid Germany and Japan by furnishing them with U. S. military information, was en route here by plane today in custody of federal agents.

Kunze, whose extradition from Mexico was one of the quickest on record, simply was placed aboard a plane, told he was an undesirable alien and flown to the Texas border where he was turned over to American authorities to be returned to Hartford, Conn., where he and two others faced trial on violation of the espionage act of 1917.

Anastase Vonsiatsky, head of the all-Russian fascist party, another of a group of five indicted with Kunze, already has pleaded guilty to the charge and has been sentenced to five years in prison.

Exact arrival time of the plane bearing Kunze was not announced, other than that it would be some time this morning at La Guardia airport, whence he is to be taken

Million Troops Reported Hurled Into Kursk Fight

—Europe & Africa

London, July 6 (AP)—The Germans have thrown more than 1,000,000 troops into the Kursk offensive in a massive wheeling operation to overrun the approaches to the Caucasus, a military informant, not quotable by name, declared today.

Gen. Heinz Guertler's second tank group was said to be leading the drive eastward, and the Germans were reported as having 1,500 first-line aircraft deployed to exploit any major German success. The enemy already has reported establishing a bridgehead across the Don.

The present battle is being fought on a 120-mile front from east of Orel to east of Kharkov. Military experts predicted the Germans would create a major diversion on the northeast shore of the Black sea, employing Nazi troops from the Kerch peninsula. This drive probably would be aimed directly at Rostov, gateway to the oil regions.

The tactical objective of the Ukraine offensive is to sever the Moscow-Voronezh-Rostov railway; the last remaining lateral communication from Moscow to Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's Army group in the south. The Vichy radio, frequently an avenue for German propaganda, said today the line already had been cut.

Guderian's headlong assault— spearheaded by the relatively small force of three armored, two motorized and five veteran infantry divisions—already has forced the Russians back in the Voronezh region.

Marshal Fedor Von Bock, in charge of the entire German offensive in the south, there was expected to try to shove a great mass of infantry and artillery on across the Don and drive southward on Stalingrad. The success of this massive maneuver would determine whether the Germans could reach the oil of the Caucasus before the snows fly again.

Timoshenko's prospects of pushing up from the south to attack the German flank was lessened by a secondary drive shrewdly launched by Von Bock from Belgorod. Military experts said this drive was believed to be engaging Soviet forces gathered there for a northern push.

The task of halting the German drives has been handed over to Soviet dive bombers and field artillery, with Russian tanks and infantry used only for limited operations, these informants said.

It was believed here that Timoshenko might attempt to draw Von Bock out until his entire force was marching eastward, and then strike hard both from the north and south.

Berlin (from German broadcasts) July 6 — (AP)—German troops have crossed the Don river in Russia at several places, the Nazi high command announced today.

At the same time, the high command reported that the number of Soviet prisoners captured in the battle of Sevastopol now totaled 97,000.

Crossings of the Don were said to have been accomplished after fierce fighting on a broad front.

Heavy battles also were reported raging in other sectors of the eastern front. The high command said that 127 Russian planes had been shot down yesterday in accompanying air combats.

Father of Official Charged in Shooting

Wauwatosa, Wis., July 6 — (AP)—W. W. Richardson, 71, father of former State Senator Roy Richardson of Hoxie, was charged with homicide today after William Jackson, 51, of Minn. died in a Jonesboro hospital of a bullet wound.

Sheriff Bill Archer said Jackson was wounded during an altercation at a tavern which Richardson was operating during the illness of his owner.

Decisive Test of Allied and Axis Strength Underway

Rommel Halted, But Nazis Start Russian Push

By De WITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

The great and probably decisive test of strength between the European Axis and the Allies at last is well under way, after many costly delays and false starts by Herr Hitler due chiefly to the magnificent fight which the Russians have been waging.

The Nazi chief hasn't waited to see the outcome of his benchmark Rommel's offensive against Egypt before slashing again with great weight at the Red front in the Kurks-Kharkov sector. His immediate objective seems to be the capture of the railway junction of Voronezh, thereby cutting the main Moscow-Rotov railroad and depriving the Bolsheviks of their last direct supply line in that zone. His ultimate goal is to crash through the Ukrainian gateway into the Caucasus.

The reader by now will have come to recognize that the Caucasus, the Middle East and Egypt are the heart of a vast, crescent-shaped front which must be regarded as an individual theater of operations, although of course it interlocks with other fronts. As you know, the struggle for this territory where east meets west, may easily determine the outcome of the war, and most certainly will vitally affect its course.

Thus far only the tips of this crescent have come into action. These bloody points are represented by Rommel's drive into Egypt and by his master's fresh effort to carve his way through the Red front within the next four months before winter again clamps down on him.

Nothing decisive has happened on either crescent yet as yet. While the Allies have halted Rommel and even hammered him back somewhat, the battle is far from over and it would be wishful thinking to assume that the resourceful Nazi commander is beaten. The important facts from the Allied standpoint are that the Axis forces have been stopped and that the Allies have at least for the moment seized the initiative from their enemy.

If the British commander Auchinleck can retain the initiative, then Rommel's position will become increasingly difficult. Time is working for the Allies and against the invaders, for it is giving Auchinleck a chance to reorganize reinforcements, while Rommel's problem of reinforcements and supplies becomes more and more serious owing to the great length of his communications. Meanwhile the heavily reinforced Anglo-American air force is hammering destructively at these communications.

Over on the other crescent-point the Germans claim to have thrown back the Red line and reached the river Don on a broad front. The Nazis have exaggerated so much in their communiques that we can't trust them but must await confirmation from Moscow. However, the Muscovites do say that the enemy has driven a wedge into their line in the Belgorod sector, and there is no doubt that Hitler is exerting great pressure on the Russians in this new attack.

It is worthy of note that the Hitlerists thus far have lacked, or at least haven't shown, the striking power which they displayed a year ago in their assault on the Soviet. The Russians say Hitler has lost so heavily in men and material in the past twelve months that he is incapable of staging an all-out offensive.

That may be a correct estimate, but I think we want to see the Germans in action for a while before coming to a conclusion. As this column has pointed out before, both sides have taken such heavy punishment that only a fresh test, such as now is under way, can determine the relative striking power of these giant armies. It will be surprising if Hitler isn't holding considerable strength in reserve, and we may expect some bitter fighting, and many dark days for the Allies, before the issue is decided.

Decisive Test of Allied and Axis Strength Underway

Rommel Halted, But Nazis Start Russian Push

By De WITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

The great and probably decisive test of strength between the European Axis and the Allies at last is well under way, after many costly delays and false starts by Herr Hitler due chiefly to the magnificent fighting which the Russians have been waging.

The Nazi chief hasn't waited to see the outcome of his henchman Rommel's offensive against Egypt before slashing again with great weight at the Red front in the Kurks-Kharkov sector. His immediate objective seems to be the capture of the railway junction of Voronezh, thereby cutting the main Moscow-Rotov railroad and depriving the Bolsheviks of their last direct supply line in that zone. His ultimate goal is to crash through the Ukrainian gateway into the Caucasus.

The reader by now will have come to recognize that the Caucasus, the Middle East and Egypt are the heart of a vast, crescent-shaped front which must be regarded as an individual theater of operations, although of course it interlocks with other fronts. As you know, the struggle for this territory where east meets west, may easily determine the outcome of the war, and most certainly will vitally affect its course.

Thus far only the tips of this crescent have come into action. These bloody points are represented by Rommel's drive into Egypt and by his master's fresh effort to carve his way through the Red front within the next four months before winter again clamps down on him.

Nothing decisive has happened on either crescent-tip as yet. While the Allies have halted Rommel and even hammered him back somewhat, the battle is far from over and it would be wishful thinking to assume that the resourceful Nazi commander is beaten. The important facts from the Allied standpoint are that the Axis forces have been stopped and that the Allies have at least for the moment seized the initiative from their enemy.

If the British commander Auchinleck can retain the initiative, then Rommel's position will become increasingly difficult. Time is working for the Allies and against the invaders, for it is giving Auchinleck a chance to receive reinforcements, while Rommel's problem of reinforcements and supplies becomes more and more serious owing to the great length of his communications. Meanwhile the heavily reinforced Anglo-American air force is hammering destructively at these communications.

Over on the other crescent-point the Germans claim to have thrown back the Red line and reached the river Don on a broad front. The Nazis have exaggerated so much in their communications that we can't trust them but must await confirmation from Moscow. However, the Muscovites do say that the enemy has driven a wedge into their line in the Belgorod sector, and there is no doubt that Hitler is exerting great pressure on the Russians in this new attack.

It is worthy of note that the Hitlerists thus far have lacked, or at least haven't shown, the striking power which they displayed a year ago in their assault on the Soviet. The Russians say Hitler has lost so heavily in men and material in the past twelve months that he is incapable of staging an all-out offensive.

That may be a correct estimate, but I think we want to see the Germans in action for a while before coming to a conclusion. As this column has pointed out before, both sides have taken such heavy punishment that only a fresh test, such as now is under way, can determine the relative striking power of these giant armies. It will be surprising if Hitler isn't holding considerable strength in reserve, and we may expect some bitter fighting, and many dark days for the Allies, before the issue is decided.

New Policy for U. S. Labor

Washington, July 6 (AP). — In shaping its policy of labor priorities, the War Manpower Commission appeared today to have forged a powerful lever to bring about wage standardization in war production plants.

Commission Chairman Paul V. McNutt advised the U. S. employment service that it may deny labor priorities to industries "in which wages and conditions of work are not at least as advantageous to a worker as those prevailing for similar establishments in the industrial area."

Such denial would mean that plants paying sub-standard wages would not obtain workers through the employment service until after the requirements of plants with higher ratings were filled.

Government sources said they expected this would force management to standardize and possibly stabilize wages in various production areas.

At McNutt's direction, rosters now are being prepared of skills and of war plants, in the order of their urgency, with the double purpose of deferring skilled men from military service and making certain that the most vital war plants get first call on their services.

One of the toughest problems of the manpower mobilization for production has been the variance of wages paid for men of similar skills.

Many instances have been reported of plants bidding up wages to attract skilled workers from other plants. To combat this practice the Manpower Commission announced in May it intended to make the U. S. Employment Service the sole hiring agency in critical production areas, meaning that workers could not move from one war plant to another without approval of the employment service.

This step was met with resistance by a considerable number of workers who objected to being "frozen" to their jobs. So far, the method is being applied only on a limited test basis.

That the government is firmly convinced wage stabilization is necessary to obtain the essential rhythm for full war production was shown in the establishment of a wage stabilization branch within the War Production board. This agency now is seeking to work out wage agreements between workers and employers in the various war classifications, on a zone basis.

ber, declared returns from the nationwide scrap rubber collection demonstrated what he termed the "acute need" for development of all possible sources.

Full returns were not in but Secretary of the Interior Ickes reported last Tuesday that only 218,000 tons were salvaged in the first week of the drive which has been extended to Friday.

"Estimates of the amount of scrap rubber which might be recovered ranged from 400,000 tons, made a government officials, to the 10,000,000 ton estimate of a New York rubber dealer," Gillette recalled.

"It appears doubtful now that even the minimum figure will be attained," he added.

Joining with the Iowan in asking speedy action, minority leader McNary (R-Ore) said there probably would be an opportunity to consider the rubber supply agency bill in the Senate this week.

Both Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) and McNary indicated a desire to defer action until Nelson's testimony could be weighed.

Arthur B. Newhall, rubber coordinator for WPE, also was slated to appear before the Gillette committee today. Newhall reported yesterday that the synthetic rubber program, which envisions an annual production of 800,000 tons by the end of 1943, might cost "considerably less" than the $650,000,000 which Congress has authorized.

Gillette said testimony to date indicated the agricultural process was quicker and cheaper than others, but he emphasized that corn belt Senators had no thought of driving the petroleum industry from the field.

"We just want to enlist all sources of supply as quickly as we can," Gillette said.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, July 6 (AP). — Wheat prices tumbled more than two cents a bushel today back to the lows established late last month, which represented the lowest general level reached by bread grain values here since before Pearl Harbor. July contracts hit a bottom of $1.15 3-8 before the market rallied late in the session.

Hedging sales associated with greatly expanding receipts at major terminal markets in the harvest area, including initial receipts of new wheat at Chicago, accounted for most of the selling.

Short covering and buying attributed to mills rallied wheat at cent from the day's lows but closing prices were 1-8-1 1-2 cents lower than Friday. July $1.16 1-4, September $1.18 3-4-78. NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, July 6 (AP). — Industrial stocks, including an assortment of blue chips, continued to operate in recovery territory today but light profit selling stemmed the advance in some classes.

Rails turned a bit mixed after a good start and forenoon gains ranging from fractions to 2 or more points were reduced here and there in the closing period. Aircrafts tilted forward at the last. Transfers approximated 375,000 shares, largest since mid-June.

News of the sinking of Japanese destroyers in the Aleutians by United States submarines was cheering to Wall street, as were the more encouraging developments in Egypt. An offset, marketwise though, was intensification of the Nazi push in Russia.

were scored on Japanese planes on the ground.

In the same four-day period, the communiqué said the Japanese raided Chinese air fields with only minor damage, losing six planes to the AVG, as previously reported in unofficial accounts.

The Japanese struck back with bombing sorties against Hengyang and other airdromes as well as Hohien, highway center in eastern Kwangsi province; Kwelin, capital of Kwangsi; and Lingling, southwest of Hengyang.

These, however, were declared officially to have caused little damage.

The American squadron roared to its attacks through a protective cover of clouds in brand new United States bombers which were flown to China from half way around the world, crossing more than 13,000 miles of oceans, deserts and mountains.

On the ground, the Chinese struck back against the Japanese captors of Iwang, in Kiangsi province 80 miles south of Nanchang, and retook the town after the enemy had held it but 24 hours, the Central news agency reported.

The fierce counter attack was said to have undermined Japanese efforts to trap large Chinese forces in central Kiangsi, south of the Chekiang-Kiangsi railroad where the enemy appeared still unable to bridge a last 25-mile-wide gap between their columns.

Hope for still greater strength to resist was held out to the Chinese yesterday in a message from British Prime Minister Churchill on the eve of the sixth year since war broke out July 7, 1937. He told Free China that her fight was the United Nation's fight and that Britain was determined to give her "every material, moral and spiritual help" in her power.

Capital Firm Given Milk Hauling Permit

Little Rock, July 6 (AP). — The Corporation Commission today authorized the Delivery Service, Inc., Little Rock, to haul dairy products to the Pine Bluff arsenal and grant a permit to the gileston Transport Company, El Dorado, to transport petroleum and petroleum products over principal state highways as a contract carrier.

British Tough With U-Boats

Washington, July 6 (AP). — Less than one out of every 200 convoys of British ships has been lost in the war, Lt. Gen. Gordon Nevill MacReady, head of the British army staff in Washington, declared today.

"In addition, the British Navy has inflicted severe punishment on the enemy's forces and has sunk five and one-fourth million tons of enemy merchant ships," MacReady said in an address prepared for the opening of an exhibition of British war weapons at the Smithsonian Institution.

MacReady, a member of the combined chiefs of staff of the United Nations, said that about 60 per cent of Britain's total national income was going into the war effort. He added:

"No one can make a fortune this time out of the war, and no matter how much his gross income may be, it is virtually impossible for anyone to have more than $20,000 left after paying his taxes for the year."

settled with one hand while we held our fastidious nose with the other.

We — meaning particularly the Anglo-Saxon people — are not irretrievably soft. We are as courageous as any — probably more than most. We are as clever, as scientific, as logical, as imaginative as our enemies.

Yet let them shove us around. The time has come — Tobruk and Matruh are proof, if there were no others — for us to get tough, to forget Marquis of Queensbury rules, to inculcate ourselves with the fighting code of the lumber camps.

The time has come for us to develop a good ardent, let's knock their dirty-bloody off hate against any man who wears an axis uniform or has to do with the axis war effort.

It seems to be agreed by on-the-spot observers that we probably had at one time the men and the material in North Africa with which to beat General Rommel's armies.

Good, competent correspondents who watched the campaign from the fighting lines say that we lost because instead of asking "Where will we hit Rommel next?" our leaders worried about "Where will Rommel strike us next?"

Everything else being equal, wars are won by those who are in there slugging every minute, taking the initiative, making the rules, barring no holds, missing no bets. Right now that is the Germans, the Russians, the Japs.

The Russians are doing the most creditable job, on our side, because they are as tough and ruthless as their enemies.

"They're no braver than the British and Americans. They're no cleverer. They're no better equipped. They're no better led."

All they have is a lack, thus, as far as the will to win, at any cost. Every Russian fights with the feeling that upon him, individually, falls the entire burden of the war. They kick, they gouge, they bite, they claw. They recognize no foul zone. They fight the devil with fire, the axis with its own callous, rat-in-a-corner technique.

Before we shall win, we must forget that we are good sports. We must stop eyeing the net, preparatory to jumping across to congratulate the victor. We must get in and slug resolved that in the end only the victor shall remain alive — and he shall be us.

Holiday Deaths

Donnie Valentine, six, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Valentine of near McGehee drowned while wading near his home Friday afternoon.

Ellis Smart, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smart, drowned at a Blytheville swimming pool yesterday.

Local, county and state police reported the quietest holiday in years today with not a single serious accident reported. Very few arrests were made by city police over the entire week-end.

Indebtedness when recorded, was challenged by O. M. Morgan, Blytheville coin amusement machine operator, in Mississippi circuit court.

Revenue Department Attorney O. T. Ward contended that Morgan's suit was barred because it was filed after the statutory 30-day period for protest of the revenue commissioner's actions. He asked the supreme court to prohibit Chancellor J. F. Gaudney from assuming further jurisdiction. The revenue department said Morgan owed the state $300 back sales tax from July-December, 1941.

The supreme court denied the petition of E. L. Santee, Little Rock, for a writ of prohibition to restrain the corporation commission from cancelling his bus operating rights between Stuttgart, Dewitt and St. Charles. The commission cancelled the permit in May on grounds that Santee was not maintaining scheduled routes and that he had obtained the operating rights through misrepresentation.

Full Parity Loans Urged

Washington, July 6 (AP). — Urging approval of a measure directing government loans at full parity for six major crops, Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) told the Senate today it was evident that President Roosevelt would not approve the $800,000,000 agriculture appropriations bill if it carried a provision prohibiting grain sales below parity for livestock feeding.

Bankhead demanded speedy action on the loan bill after the Senate appropriations committee had approved unanimously a revised version of stop-gap legislation which would provide up to $93,900,000 for July operations of the Agriculture Department.

The department has been technically without funds since June 30, largely because the Senate and House have not been able to agree on a Senate revision in the money bill which would permit sales of government-held wheat at about 83 cents a bushel for livestock feed.

The House has insisted on full parity, or $1.34 a bushel, for such sales and included a proviso of this nature in a stop-gap measure it passed last week and which was reviewed today by the Senate committee.

Bankhead disclosed that when the bill was passed last year authorizing government loans up to 85 per cent of parity, he and other senators wrote Mr. Roosevelt agreeing to support a change in policy which would take benefit payments into account when computing parity payments to farmers.

The Senate wrote such a provision into the $800,000,000 bill but the House thus far has declined to accept it. Bankhead argued this and other disputes could be settled by 100 per cent parity loans, as proposed in the pending measure.

Bankhead said he was informed that if government sales of wheat for feeding were not permitted at prices below parity, an increase of $1,000,000,000 in the cost of food to consumers would result.

"It is evident," he declared, "that the legislation in the House bill against sales (of wheat) by the committee credit below parity will not be passed and approved by the president."

Farmer Jailed After Assault

Wynne, July 6 (AP). — An unmarried farmer of near Vandale was held in jail here today without charge in connection with an attack upon a white woman, about 80, at her home on the outskirts of Wynne. The suspect vigorously denied the crime.

Chief Deputy Sheriff H. L. Mitchell said the man, about 28, recently had been paroled from the state prison after serving seven years of an original life sentence assessed in February 1934 for rape.

Mitchell said the victim gave this account of the attack: A man appeared at her home late Saturday and asked for change for $1. When she replied she didn't have it, he knocked the door open and demanded money. She gave him 45 cents. He then beat her severely with his fists and a stick, and assaulted her twice. After the assault left she called a Negro youth to summon officers.

The old woman returned to her home after treatment at a clinic here and is expected to recover, Mitchell said.

2 New Wells in Lafayette

By Special Correspondent
Stamps, Ark., July 3.—Two producers were added this week in Lafayette county, one in the McKamie deep gas distillate field, and the other in the Midway field.

The first producer for the week was Carter Oil Company's Marble Hanes No. 3 C NE section 36-17-23 which flowed at the rate of 192 barrels on 11/16 inch choke in 24 hours. Top of porosity was 9150 feet which extended to below 9330 feet. In the same area Atlantic Refining Company set 331 feet of 13 3/8 inch casing at the Bodcaw No. 10 C SE section 32-17-23 and are now WOC. One new location was announced for the McKamie field by Riddell Petroleum Corporation as the W. S. Harris No. 1 C SW section 31-17-23.

In the Midway field, the completion for the week was Barnsdall Oil Company's Powell No. 2 C NW NW section 10-15-24 which flowed at the rate of 27 barrels hourly on quarter inch choke. Gravity of the crude is 36.5. Top of porosity was 6405 extending to 6475 feet. The Powell No. 2 brings the total for the Midway field to 19. Other activities in that area include Barnsdall No. 1 C NW NE section 11-15-24 after encountering oil saturation at 6400 feet. Total depth is 6499 feet. A production test is scheduled for next week. The same company drilled below 6324 feet at the Dobson No. 3 C NE NE section 10-15-24, the McClain No. 2 C SE SW section 13-15-24 drilled below 5000 feet, the McClain No. 3 C NW NW section 13-15-24 drilled at 2260 feet, the McClain No. 1 C SE SW section 13-15-24 drilled below 5482 feet, the same company's Turner No. 1 SE SW same section was moving in rig. Arkansas Muel Oil Company's Turner No. 1 C SE SW section 12-15-24 drilled below 4143 feet.

Three new locations were announced this week for the Midway field, they are as follows: Barnsdall Oil Company's Powell No. 3 C NE of the NEW in section 13-15-24, Frankel & Frankel & Riddell Petroleum Corporation's Bodcaw Lumber Company No. 1 C SE NW section 17-15-23. Southwood-Wakefield No. 4 S4 section 14-15-24, operations at all three consist of building roads, clearing location and spudding at the McClaine test.

In the Patton field south of Lewisville, Tidewater Associated Oil Company is WOC after a squeeze job from 1698 to 1700 feet at its Bendaw No. 1 C NE NW section 32-17-24.

Senate Race Hits New Pace

Little Rock, July 6 (AP). — The four-way senatorial campaign gained momentum today and all other office seekers raised their bid for a share of public attention now concentrated on the war.

With only three weeks and a day remaining before the preferential primary, candidates — especially those in the senatorial race — began taking off their gloves in discussing issues and personalities through newspaper advertisements.

Rep. David D. Terry, kept in Washington by conference on the deadlocked agricultural appropriations bill, laid down a barrage of advertising to present his claim for the senatorial nomination and to answer opposition.

Attorney General Jack Holt concentrated his attention today on a radio speech he will make at 8:30 p. m. tonight. Congressman Clyde T. Ellis, who made a flying trip to Washington for conferences over the week end, was scheduled to fly back tonight to fill 27 speaking engagements this week starting tomorrow morning at Bearden and ending at Pine Bluff Saturday night. John L. McClellan, Camden, began a 28-speech schedule today at Gould which will carry him to Fort Smith by Saturday night.

Fred Keller, only vocal opponent to Governor Adkins' renomination bid, mapped a 30-appearance schedule for the week in north and northwest Arkansas.

THE ENEMY AGAIN

CHAPTER X

THERE were no shots from above, but a murmur of excited voices reached Tom and Judith. Flashlights played all around, never quite spotting them under the wharf. For a few seconds the swimmers stopped paddling in the water and huddled together, holding to the bannet post.

"This can't last long, Judy," Burke whispered hoarsely, his teeth chattering. "They'll find us sure. They know we're under here."

"Let's take a chance of swimming for it," Judith said. "If they shoot at us it might attract attention and bring help of some kind. They may not take that chance. Anyway, I'd rather drown than freeze to death," she said, shivering.

"Then come on, darling." The endearing word strengthened her with new hope.

They moved in and around the boats, swimming as quietly as possible, but their pursuers' lights picked them out. No shots came, but Judith was tense with fear. Swimming furiously now, they drew out of the lights' range and reached a white schooner anchored off shore. With great difficulty Tom got himself aboard and pulled her up. They were exhausted and cold.

"I'm not sure this is a safe place but it gives us a chance," Tom panted, scanning the darkness.

"Surely they can't hound us much longer. The detective should be along soon. He was to follow me," Judith drew her shoulders forward and wrapped her arms around herself for protection against the cold air. "I'm freezing. Tom—simply freezing to death."

He took her hand and pulled her along the deck to the cabin door. Luckily it was not locked. Judith stumbled down the first step but he caught her up in his arms and set her safely on the floor below. His arms dropped away from her at once while her heart cried out to him not to let her go.

"If I can find some old clothes for us," he said, fumbling in the dark for closets. "We've got to get out of these wet things before we catch pneumonia."

There was nothing to be found, but he kept looking. Judith's fingers discovered a blanket on one of the bunks and she wrapped herself in it, wet clothes and all, and sat down on the edge of the bunk. Quite without warning, she laughed—a laugh that was next to tears and hysterics.

"When I get out of this mess, the company owes me a real vacation and another raise in salary. I'll never be the same."

"You poor, sweet darling," said Tom softly from across the room. Judith stared in the direction of his voice. Her heart thumped against her ribs so loudly she wondered if he couldn't hear it.

A devilish impulse rose in her to taunt him. "Don't tell me you really have a heart."

"One that beats for a redhead," he laughed. "Now don't try to make me say more, Judy, not until we are out of this. Then I'll prove what a real sentimental streak I have. What you have gone through for me . . ."

"You don't owe me a thing, Tom Burke," she flared hotly. "I have only been following orders. It's my job—the job you thought so stupid for a girl."

There was a swift movement and Judith felt herself pulled in to strong arms and against a wet coat and a body that shivered with cold. His hand tilted her head back and he kissed her—a kiss that set her whole body tingling with excitement. He freed her lips but held her tightly in his arms.

"It's a free world, Judy, darling," he told her huskily. "I have a right to be sentimental any time I want to and without changing my mind about things."

She pushed at him and struggled to get out of his arms. Another minute and she would be weeping.

"Well, I don't want any of your love," she said and wondered why she was telling such a lie—it was the only thing in the world she did want.

"No?"

He kissed her again. Slowly, she felt herself sink into a well of happiness and then just as slowly come back to the present. Against her will, her arms clung to him. Then he let go of her so abruptly that she fell back to the bunk. He drew in a sharp breath and moved away from her.

Judith was too stubborn to give way to tears and let him know he had won. Instead she got angry.

"Let's have a light—spies or no spies," she demanded and stood up.

"Judith, sweet—" he said, "why don't you give in and say—" He broke off abruptly. "Sh—" he whispered. Her heart beat chokingly.

Into the quiet there came the sound, close at hand, of oars dipping into the sea.

Ellis to Speak Here Tuesday

At 4:45 p. m. Tuesday, July 7, Congressman Clyde T. Ellis, candidate for the United States Senate, will address citizens of Hope and surrounding section on his program for "Total War, Total Peace and the Emancipation of Arkansas."

Since the opening of his campaign, Mr. Ellis has been speaking five times daily, explaining his stand on the issues now confronting the people of Arkansas. Earlier Tuesday he will appear at Beardon, Sparkman, Arkadelphia and Gurdon.

Since his election to Congress, he has been a fighter for cheaper rural electrification in Arkansas and for lower freight rates. By his introduction of the Arkansas Valley Authority bill, he gained nationwide recognition. This bill provides for the coordination of dams in a program of hydro development, flood control and navigation in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Keep Working Soldier Urges

Seattle, July 6 (AP). — Urging citizens in the states to "work like Hell and keep their mouths shut," another group of men who fought at Dutch Harbor, most of them wounded, arrived in Seattle Sunday.

"Just tell the people of the states to work like Hell and keep their mouths shut!" Pvt. Bob Milam of Chicago said. "Tell them to keep producing war materials at top speed and get them to the men at the front."

Milam said he and Corp. Bruce Richardson of Hot Springs, Arkansas, were hurled 30 feet by one bomb explosion when Japs raided the Aleutian community several weeks ago.

"I had dropped some ammunition and had just bent over to pick it up when a bomb hit close by," Corp. Louis R. Prentice of Bockchito, Okla., said. "Yeah, I'll say it knocked me out—for 30 hours."

Prentice said a big steel wire drum absorbed bomb splinters headed in his direction.

"If it hadn't been for that, well I wouldn't be telling this," he declared.

The men will convalesce at an Army hospital in Seattle.

Want Women for Training

Mrs. John Vesey, chairman of the Nurse's Aide Committee of the Hempstead County Chapter of the American Red Cross appealed today to local women to enroll for training in the Volunteer Nurse's Aide Corps.

Now that we are at war, we are faced with an acute nursing shortage, not only here in Hope, but all over the country, Mrs. Vesey pointed out. Nurses are being called daily for service with our armed forces, both at home and abroad. To meet the urgent nursing needs of hospitals, clinics and health agencies, the Office of Civilian Defense, together with the American Red Cross, has issued a nation-wide appeal for 100,000 women to volunteer as Nurse's Aides.

In case of an air raid or an epidemic of flu such as followed the last war, our present local nursing resources would prove inadequate to handle the situation," Mrs. Vesey said. "We have a community responsibility here in Hope to see that our civilian services are not only adequately maintained, but that we are prepared for any emergency. We can only do this if a local group of competent and hard working women will volunteer to assist our graduate nurses. By learning how to perform simple routine duties in hospitals and dealer, a skating rink operator and a construction foreman, two Indian Service nurses said.

The four men, "Blackie" Floyd, Robert Patterson, Ivan Ballinger and Clarence Sauters, respectively, ignored danger and attended natives, cared for the injured, convalesced hospital patients to shelters and opened their own homes to native civilians in need, said Grace Moore of Redwood, New York, and Margaret Quinn of Pittsburgh, Pa.

"They never paid any attention to bombings and went 48 hours at a time without sleep," Miss Moore said.

No women or children were killed in the bombings, reported the nurses, who were evacuated from the outpost for service in other hospitals.

clinics, these Nurse's Aides can release the graduate nurses for more technical work, which only they can perform. In addition, they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are playing a vital part in our war effort," Mrs. Vesey explained.

An intensive 80-hour training course for Volunteer Nurse's Aides is starting here soon. Women between 18 and 50. American citizens, physically fit and willing to serve at least 150 hours per year without pay, are eligible for enrollment.

The first half of the training course will consist of 35 hours of class work, with a qualified graduate nurse as instructor. The second half of the course will be at the Julia Chester Hospital, where the volunteer will spend 45 hours in supervised practice.

After completing the course, the Nurse's Aide is expected to give the first 150 hours of service on hospital wards, and later she may be assigned to hospitals, clinics, health department, or other health agencies. Her duties are many and varied, but her work is always supervised by a graduate nurse.

All those wishing to volunteer should apply at once to the Office of Civilian Defense, the local Red Cross Chapter, or to Mrs. John Vesey, chairman of the Nurse's Aide Committee.

From Camp Barkeley

Editor The Star: Thought maybe you and the readers of the Hope Star might like to hear from another Hope boy in the armed forces. I am stationed here at Camp Barkeley, Texas in the Quartermaster Corps. Hope is well represented in this camp. Besides myself, Lt. Royce Weisenberger and Capt. Lex Helms, Jr., are also here.

This camp is training quarters for the 90th Infantry division, an organization which can boast of a great record in the last war and we of the new 90th have a job to do to equal their heroic deeds. That this Division will do a good job is assured by the fact that it contains several hundred Arkansas boys who are itching to get a crack at the nasty Nipponese and haughty Hun.

We are all nearing the end of our basic training. We have been firing on the range and while I am far from being a Deadeye Dick with a Springfield rifle, the ability of our company as a whole is excellent. Our morale here is high, the food is good, and our officers are the best. This Army life is great for a man. Plenty of nourishing food and vigorous exercise and drilling has added 16 pounds in three months to my weight and while I am not yet ready to challenge Charles Atlas in a "body beautiful" contest I do believe the time will soon come when I can say, "Today I am a man!"

If our group is typical of all our armed forces I feel sure that the day will soon come when America and her allies will destroy forever the forces of international barbarism and put Adolf in a nuthouse where he belongs.

Although the Quartermasters is a non-combat group we have one of the most important jobs in the Army. We must supply the fighting men with food, clothing, and other supplies and in the combat zone enemy bombers will be after us. Our is a hard, essential, and dangerous job and the Quartermasters Corps is far from being a "gold-brick" outfit as many believe. Must stop now and get back to work. You folks at home get in behind us and we'll get the job done on the battlefield—but good.

Very truly yours,
Pvt. Paul M. Simms, Jr.

This is an Apple

This is a Peach

Suppose, in a certain section of the country, there is a surplus crop of apples and a shortage of peaches.

These are Newspaper Advertisements

In them, merchants feature apples and soft-pedal peaches. What happens?

Farmers benefit—their surplus apple crops are sold. Consumers benefit—because they learn that apples are plentiful and economical—peaches are scarce and costly.

That's only one way in which newspaper advertising benefits everyone and renders a great public service.

During a war the newspaper is more important than ever as a guide to the public in finding the things that are plentiful and economical.

Nationals Are Favorites in Today's Game

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, July 6 (AP)—For perhaps the first time since baseball's annual All-Star classic was inaugurated 10 years ago, the National League's standard bearers will be the logical favorites when they clash with the American Leaguers at 5:30 (CWT) this evening in the polo grounds.

Trailing three victories to six in the previous games, the National Leaguers are seriously determined to win this one on superior pitching and to whittle down the advantage the junior circuit has built up by its vastly greater slugging ability. Loss of three of their principal stars of last year's triumph at Detroit—Bobby Feller, Cecil Travis and Bill Dickey—has weakened the American leaguers.

The Nationals do not only boast their usual fine set of pitchers, but they will go into today's game fortified by a group of hitters who, by the averages at least stack up right alongside their rivals' star maulers.

Another point: The Nationals appear to have a superior incentive to win. They have been dead-enders in their preparations, to such an extent that President Ford Frick made a special request that five crack pitchers be given adequate rest.

For still another reason, the National Leaguers would love to win this one. The team that is in front when the last out is made under the lights tonight will hustle for Cleveland to appear against Lieut. Mickey Cochrane's service All-Stars in a second benefit game tomorrow night. It would give the Nationals particular delight to represent the big leagues in an American League city.

A crowd of more than 50,000 is expected to assemble under Coogan's bluff to see the start of today's game in the lengthening shadows. Somewhere past midway of the contest it will be necessary to snap on the floodlights.

This was an important consideration in Manager Leo Durocher's decision to start Claude Passeau of the Chicago Cubs against the American Leaguers, rather than Mort Cooper, the St. Louis Cardinals' fireballer. Leo figures Cooper's speed will make him well nigh invisible to the batters during the eerie period after the lights are burning and the day still is fading.

Passeau, winner of 12 games already this season, was the unfortunate National Leaguer who happened to be in the box a year ago at Detroit when Ted Williams of the Red Sox smashed his game-winning home run into the right field stands with two on base. Passeau has been galled by the memory.

Between Passeau and Cooper, it is likely that Durocher will call upon his own wheelhorse, Whitlow Wyatt, for a three-inning chore. Sine McCarthy has included only two left-handers, Ted Williams and Tommy Henrich, in his tentative American League starting line up, it is doubtful that either Cliff Melton or Johnny Vandermeer, the Nationals' two southpaws, will see action.

Bill Dickey, veteran Yankee catcher, was definitely out of the game, leaving the American League with the necessity of starting weak-hitting Birdie Tebbetts of the Detroit Tigers behind the plate.

Most observers leaned toward Spangenhauer, Yankees right hander as the American League's starting pitcher. McCarthy said it would be Chandler or Harold Newhouser or Al Benton, the latter two of Detroit, but in other years it has been noticeable that the Yankees' pitcher had to fall back on one of his own men when he was in doubt.

If Chandler does start, the National Leaguers will line-up with five left-hand clubbers at the top of their batting order.

Sports Roundup

New York, July 6 — That American league all-star team is going to look mighty funny without Jimmy Fox out there . . . But it would look even funnier if Jimmy were playing on the other side. . . . Incidentally, where are the figures to back up the usual story of national league pitching vs. American league hitting? . . . Outside of Lou Boudreau, who has hit two-for-two in the past, Arky Vaughan's .400 is the best all-star batting average for any of today's starters. Ted Williams tops the American leaguers with .33 . . . If they sell out the Polo Grounds tonight and the Cleveland stadium, tomorrow night, the bat and ball fund still will get only $100,000, which will buy only about 22 per cent of the equipment that the soldiers and sailors have asked for.

Budge Defeats Bobby Riggs

By The Associated Press

New York — Don Budge crushed Bobby Riggs, 6-2, 6-2, for national pro tennis title. The two combined later to defeat Frank Kovacs and Bruce Banez, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, for doubles title.

New York — A. J. Sackett's Tola Rose fought off Whirlaway on Empire City's home stretch to win $30,000 Butler handicap by four lengths while establishing track record of 1:56 4-5 for mile and three-sixteenths.

Boston — Mrs. Payne Whitney's Kentucky Derby champion, Shut Out, ran mile and three-sixteenths in track record time of 1:55 2-5 to subdue Valinda Farm's Valinda Orphan in $25,000 Yankee handicap.

Tennock, N. J. — Al Blozis, Georgetown university graduate, exceeded world record by throwing 12-pound shot 62 feet 3 inches, surpassing by 23 1-2 inches old mark set by Jack Turrance of LSU seven years ago. Officials said the ring used yesterday was not of regulation size and would bar acceptance of Blozis' mark as the world record.

Ted Williams Leads Circuit in Batting

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

Associated Press Sports Writer

Major league baseball teams put aside their pennant struggles today after two straight rounds of doubleheaders and sent their stars to the inter-league classic at New York.

All teams in both leagues maintain the positions they held before the strenuous week-end but about the same margins.

A notable week-end development was the rise of Ted Williams, Boston's American league batting champion of 1941, to lead the circuit's hitters for the first time this year. Williams is batting .348, best in his league for 150 or more times at bat but somewhat behind Pete Reiser of the Dodgers, who won the National League crown last year and is slugging .361 at present.

Roger Wolf pitched the Athletics to a 5-4 decision over the Yankees in yesterday's first game but the champs took the second, 4-2, to give Lefty Gomez his third mound triumph of the year.

A double by Johnny Sullivan and a single by George Case in the ninth inning gave the Senators a 4-3 win over the Red Sox in their opener, but Joe Dobson blanked the Sox on five hits in the nightcap, won by the Red Sox, 5-0.

The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers continued their argument over third place, which the tribe held by winning, 5-1, behind Mel Harder's three-hit pitching after the Tigers had taken the first game, 10-1, with a 16-hit attack.

The Chicago White Sox swamped the St. Louis Browns, 14-2, as Ted Lyons pitched his 252nd major league victory and hit a double and single but the Browns squared it, 13-2, with Steve Sundra pitching six-hit ball and contributing a home run, triple and double.

Eddie Miller doubled in the run that gave the Boston Braves a 6-5 verdict over the Dodgers. Then Larry French, who hasn't lost his season, pitched Brooklyn to a 2-1 triumph in the second game for his ninth win.

At Pittsburgh, a line drive struck Pitcher Paul Derringer of the Cincinnati Reds on the knee after he had blanked the Pirates for five frames in the first game, injuring him.

Atlanta took over second spot for the second time in three days after sharing a twin bill with Birmingham. Rookie Jim Mertz of Atlanta hurled a 10-inning three-hitter to best veteran Ed Heusser and win the second game for the Crackers, 2-1.

Mike Schultz, Birmingham pitcher, went into the opening game in the eighth with the score tied and won 5-4 for his second victory in as many days.

Fourth-place Memphis swept over Knoxville, 1-0 and 5-1, while New Orleans took an opener from Chattanooga 9-2 and dropped the finale, 1-5.

Al Moran of Little Rock won his 12th game of the season, against four losses, in squelching Nashville in the opener with seven hits. Dutch McCall, Nashville's young southpaw, lost his first game after winning four straight. Nashville's ace hurler, Vito Tamulis, was unsuccessful in his third try for game No. 13 in the second contest, being replaced in the third by George Jeffcoat after the Travelers had talked six scores.

Joe Callahan, Little Rock starter in the nightcap, was injured in the first inning. Manager Willis Hudlin relieved him and hurled fourth-hit ball for his sixth win of the year.

Today's games and probable pitchers:

New Orleans (unannounced) at Atlanta (Murray or Curtis)

Birmingham (unannounced) at Chattanooga (Miller)

Ted Lyons, White Sox, and Steve Sundra, Browns — former pitched eight-hit ball and contributed double and single for game triumph while latter tossed six-hitter and smashed home run, triple and double in winning nightcap.

Eddie Miller, Braves, and Larry French, Dodgers — Miller broke up first game with eighth-inning double and French pitched Dodgers to victory run of first game with ninth inning single and Dobson blanked Senators on five hits in nightcap.

Harry Gumbert and Walker Cooper, Cardinals — former pitched six-hit ball in first game and latter drove in three runs in second of double victory over Cubs.

Bill Knickerbocker, Athletics, and Phil Rizzuto, Yankees — former batted in what proved to be winning run in first game and second.

Elbie Fletcher, Pirates, and Gerald Walker, Reds — former more in first game while latter hit batted in its runs and scored two three-run double in second as teams split.

Dizzy Trout, Tigers, and Mel Harder, Indians — former pitched six-hit ball in first game and latter tossed three-hitter in second as teams broke even.

Ron Northey and Ernie Koy, Phils — former drove in winning run of first game and latter hit three-run double in second as Phils beat Giants twice.

Service Teams Ready to Play

Cleveland, July 6 —(AP)—The best baseball talent in the Army and Navy got a final tune-up in a two-hour practice session today while waiting for the major leagues to decide on an opponent for them.

Under the managerial eye of Lieut. Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane of the Navy, a squad of 21 players climbed to razor-edge form for tomorrow night's game with the winner of the National-American all-star game in New York.

Cochrane's own boys, the men from the Great Lakes training station, have had the most practice together and form the nucleus of the squad, but the two-hour session today probably will decide the final line-up.

Lieut. George Earnshaw, former hurling ace of the Philadelphia Athletics, took time out from his coaching to predict the National league will win today's all-star game in New York.

Bob Feller, former Cleveland fireballer, also picked the Nationals. "I think the National leaguers are a little better, but of course I hope the American team wins."

Feller or Johnny Rigney, late of the Chicago White Sox, probably will open the game. No pitcher will work more than five frames, Earnshaw said.

The Shadow of Things to Come

Washington — The Shadow of Things to Come:

The Navy has pointed the way and unless every other wartime agency ignores the lesson taught by the Navy experiment, our bureaucratic government is in for a streamlining of personnel and elimination of red tape which will save millions every month of war.

In mid-April, the Navy Department had 17,500 civilian employees here and was talking in terms of hiring 1,000 a month "for the duration."

In the face of this Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox did a daring thing. It went practically unnoticed at the time — except among the big war agency employers — and to say that they were shocked is to put it mildly. He froze Navy personnel for 45 days. In other words, he said there will be no more hiring until June 1 (he since has extended the freeze 30 days to July 1).

The result is that in two months, Navy civilian personnel has been decreased to around 17,000, in spite of the rapidly expanding naval forces at sea. Efficiency in handling office routine and paper work has mounted. Red tape has been cut. Morale among Navy civilian workers is outstanding that of almost any other department. And some other war agency personnel directors are biting their nails and wishing that their bosses had fired that first gun instead of allowing Secretary Knox to point the target with his brace of tracers.

In calling a halt to all new civilian hiring in the face of the greatest expansion in naval history, Knox ordered incompetents dropped; eager but untrained employees given special training or refresher courses; misplaced employees transferred to the jobs where their efficiency and experience would count; and unnecessary paper work cut.

Within a few days approximately 150 fulsome reports had been eliminated from the dairy routine; personnel was being juggled; and the efficiency hounds, inspired by promises of bonuses and promotion, were working right through the blackouts trying to win gold stars for their various offices and themselves.

That's the Navy. But think what this would mean in terms of total wartime government. The government now has more than 2,000,000 civilian employees (just a little less

Stratton, the hero; there's Bobby Harrell, the tumbling acrobatic dancer in the checkered racetrack pants. There's Stuart Langley, Richard Dick, and the Barton brothers, William and Wilber, who hail from Baltimore and who look so much alike that they draw each other's checks on payday.

Most of these games, that is, with local teams, are played on the soft ball diamonds at Central Park. Among their opponents have been the "Sons O'Fun" (Olson & Johnson), and the "Let's Face It" crowd . . . The word now is that "By Jupiter," the street's newest hit, is organizing a team.

Ha Ha, Phil Baker has changed it: "When a Japa admiral sees the U. S. mosquitos coming he screams, 'Quick, Hirohito, the fleet!'"

And Meyer Davis chimes in with the one about the Nazi soldier who was caught stealing another soldier's boots. . . . "Please give me one more chance," begged the Nazi. "Why should we," replied the commanding officer coldly, "who do you think we are — Hitler!"

That big guy munching peanuts back of first base at the Polo Grounds all last week was Clark Gable. . . . Johnny Green, the composer and conductor of the "By Jupiter" band, goes into the Air Corps in October. Johnny Long, the band leader, is only 27.

He's a product of Duke University and a native of Charlotte, N.C. . . . Frederick Sondern, Reader's Digest, goes into the Army this week. . . . The Polo Grounds has an idea that aids the war fund considerably. Nobody is admitted on a pass until they buy a 25 cent war stamp. . . .

than three times what it had two years ago) and estimates are that it will take 500,000 more in the next fiscal year—more than 40,000 a month. A two and a half month's freeze, duplicating the Navy's experiment, would eliminate more than 100,000 salaries, at the same time probably raise efficiency and cut red tape.

Will the other wartime agencies follow suit? They will unless the public is blind and dumb — and there's hardly an observer on the Washington scene these days who won't say outright that the public never was more wide awake.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Proposed by the General Assembly and filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 27th day of March, 1941.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, A MAJORITY OF BOTH HOUSES AGREEING THERETO: THAT THE FOLLOWING IS HEREBY PROPOSED AS AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, AND THE SAME BEING SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORS OF THE STATE FOR APPROVAL OR REJECTION AT THE NEXT GENERAL ELECTION FOR SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES, IF A MAJORITY OF THE ELECTORS VOTING THEREON ADOPT SUCH AMENDMENT, THE SAME SHALL BECOME A PART OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, TO-WIT:

Section 1. Whenever in any county where there is located a public hospital owned by such county or by any municipal corporation thereof, such hospital be operated by such county or municipal corporation or by a benevolent association as the agent or lessee of such county or municipal corporation, one hundred or more electors of such county shall file a petition with the county judge asking that an annual tax on real personal property in such county be levied for the purpose of maintaining, operating and supporting such hospital, and shall specify a rate of taxation not exceeding one mill on the dollar, of the assessed value of real and personal property in the county. The question as to whether such tax shall be levied shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such county at a general election. Such petition must be filed at least thirty days prior to the election at which it will be submitted to the voters. The county judge upon the filing of such petition shall notify the county board of election commissioners thereof and the county board of election commissioners shall cause the question to be placed upon the ballot in substantially the following form:

FOR _____ mill tax on real and personal property to be used for maintenance, operation and support of a public hospital.

AGAINST a _____ mill tax on real and personal property to be used for maintenance, operation and support of a public hospital.

Section 2. The election commissioners shall certify to the county judge the result of the vote and if a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question at such election vote in favor of the specified tax then it shall thereafter be continually levied and collected as other general taxes of such county are levied and collected. The result of the election shall be proclaimed by the county judge by publication for one week in some newspaper published in such county. The result so proclaimed shall be conclusive unless attacked in the courts within thirty days and after the election it shall not be competent to attack the result thereof on the ground that any signers of the petition were not qualified electors. The proceeds of any tax so voted shall upon the settlement of the collecting officer be paid by the treasurer of the county to the treasurer of such hospital to be used by such treasurer in the maintenance, operation and support of such institution; provided that any county where there may be more than one hospital qualified to receive the proceeds of such tax, the quorum court at its meeting for the purpose of adopting the county's budget, shall provide for the apportionment of the proceeds of said tax between the institutions so qualified according to the respective needs.

Section 3. Whenever one hundred or more electors of any county having a hospital tax for such county shall file a petition with the county judge asking that such tax be raised, reduced or abolished, the question shall be submitted to the qualified electors at a general election. Such petition must be filed at least thirty days prior to the election at which it will be submitted to the voters. The ballot shall follow, as far as practicable, the form set out in Section 1 hereof, and the result shall be certified and proclaimed as provided in Section 2 hereof and shall be conclusive in like manner. The tax shall be lowered, raised or abolished as the case may be, according to the majority of qualified electors voting on the question at such election; provided, however, that it shall not be raised to more than one mill on the dollar. If lowered or raised the revised tax shall thereafter be continually levied and collected and the proceeds used in the manner and for the purposes provided in Section 2 hereof.

Section 4. This amendment shall be self-executing and shall become a part of the constitution of the State of Arkansas when approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Witness my hand and Seal this 30th day of April, 1942.

C. G. HALL,
Secretary of State.

Funeral Services For Robert Turner Held Here Monday

Funeral services were held here Monday afternoon for Robert A. Turner, age 22, ferry pilot, who was killed Wednesday afternoon at Long Beach, Calif., when his plane and another collided. Turner was graduated from the Prescott High School and Magnolia A. and M. college, and received his CAA training at Jonesboro and Conway and Monroe, La. He was a pilot in the Army Air Force Ferry Command. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Turner of Prescott.

The W. C. T. U. Meets Thursday at the Home of Mrs. Teeter

For the July meeting of the W. C. T. U., the home of Mrs. J. W. Teeter was the place of meeting. Serving as hostesses with her were Mesdames Charlie Thomas, T. M. Honea and J. D. Baker.

Mrs. Joe Hamilton, the vice president at the business sessions. The meeting opened with the singing of "This is My Father's World" followed by prayer by Mrs. Hamilton.

The Secretary, Mrs. Charlie Thomas, read the minutes, after which the departmental directors gave their reports.

Mrs. Joe Hamilton interspersed the program with many valuable items of importance, which brought vital facts to the members. Mrs. John Hubbard, leader of the program, used John 8 as her devotion.

al. Mrs. John Hubbard, p. 10. 5u al. She based her program on one word "Freedom." Her topic was "Christian Citizenship" and she stressed its importance most fittingly.

She closed her program with the singing of "America."

The hostesses served a delectable plate of fruit punch, sandwiches, and cookies.

What Does Jack Holt Know About Duty?

1. On behalf of 51,918 Arkansas men in our armed forces and their families, I address this advertisement to Jack Holt.

2. While the campaign for Senator goes on, my obligation to the people of Arkansas, and particularly to the sons of Arkansas in the Army and Navy, has compelled me to remain in Washington much of the time, where, as ranking member of the subcommittee in charge of all War Department appropriations, I have important work to do — doing my utmost to provide arms and equipment for the men and boys from Arkansas now fighting the enemy. As ranking member of the subcommittee in charge of appropriations for agriculture, my presence there also has been necessary to all the people of Arkansas so that food too may be provided.

3. While I have been in Washington doing the work I was elected to do, Jack Holt, who is well within the draft age, abandons the office of Attorney General where he has duties to perform and accuses me of neglect of duty because of some of my votes in Congress before war was declared.

4. In the last war, at the age of thirty-seven, I enlisted — though married and the father of three children. I served in the Army then. And my son is on active duty as a pilot in the Air Corps in this war. I did not run from the Army under the pretense of running for the United States Senate.

5. I remained in Washington attending to important business for my country while this opponent was attacking me. I would like to know — and I am sure those men and boys of Arkansas now in the Army and Navy would like to know — what Jack Holt thinks his duty is in the crisis which his country faces. I ask him, through this advertisement, to explain to the people of Arkansas what he means by neglect of duty.

6. Jack Holt says that he wants to serve the people of his State and his country — but he wants to serve them in the wrong place. If I were Jack Holt's age, I would not be running for the Senate of the United States. I would be running for the nearest Army recruiting office. Jack is running in the wrong direction.

7. When Jack Holt attacked my record in his opening address in this campaign, he was embarrassed by the knowledge of his failure to volunteer his services where they are really needed. He tried to hide behind the service of his older brothers in the first World War, and the boast of the service of younger brothers in this war. But Jack's older brother is not running for the Senate. If I had stayed out of this Army and had an older brother who served in the last war, I would be running him for the Senate — not myself.

8. The selective service system was created to induct men into the service in a business-like manner, and to defer men who ought to be deferred because of their ability in industry, or knowledge of agriculture, because of their skill in manufacturing tanks, airplanes, battle ships, and munitions, or because of their ability in producing food for the nation are performing a patriotic service and are serving their country well and nobly. There are also men with dependents who are serving their country to the best of their ability.

9. But Jack Holt is not engaged in industry or agriculture, and is not in military or naval service. He is not offering to do anything for his country where his services are needed. He is spending, and will spend, more than enough money running for the Senate to support his family in comfort and security for the duration of the war.

10. We have the spectacle of a young man of military age avoiding all branches of service to run for the Senate when there is a crying need for men of his age in our armed forces — when there are thousands of men in Arkansas anxious to serve their county. And HE talks about neglect of duty.

11. Over fifty thousand men from Arkansas are serving in the armed forces of the country. Before this war is over, more than fifty thousand more, perhaps more than one hundred thousand more, will be required for the Army and Navy from the State. If men of Jack Holt's age refuse to serve where the country needs them, we will have to send our eighteen-year-old boys to fight the enemy. These youngsters will have to defend this country for Jack Holt while he stays at home and talks about neglect of duty — AND these eighteen-year-old boys, too young to run for the Senate, already have been registered.

12. If Jack Holt has any of the abilities which he claims in his speeches — if he has the ability for leadership which he says he will take with him to the Senate if elected — then he is one of those especially needed in the armed forces of the country. His opportunity for service, according to his own estimate of his ability, is in the capacity of an officer to train and guide the country's boys in the grave crisis with which this country is now confronted. There is an imperative demand at this moment for men of his age, physical condition and claimed abilities to serve this country in this capacity. There is one officers' training camp in Virginia now. More than one-third of the men there are over forty years of age. And the general staff is asking for still more.

13. This is the time when the safety of our homes and families demands of every man that he offer his services to his country in the capacity in which he is best qualified to serve. This is not a matter of personal choice — whether on the farm or in the factory or in the Army or in the Navy. The individual who really wants to serve his country will go where his country sends him. One United States Senator, forty-one years old, has left the Senate to serve in the Army. Six members of the House of Representatives of Jack Holt's age, have done likewise. They wanted to serve the country, but they know where to serve it.

14. I do not know why Jack Holt is not in our armed forces. It must not be because his family needs his support, since he has ample funds to spend in a race for Senator. It must not be because he is Attorney General, since he will abandon that office when defeated in the race for the Senate. It must be then because he has a perverted sense of direction when he starts running. It could be that he does not want to serve his country when his country needs his services — or where his country wants him to serve. But — whatever the reason — the mothers and fathers, the wives and sweethearts of 51,918 Arkansas boys offering their lives in the defense of their country, and of that many more soon to make the same offer — all these would like to know what Jack Holt means when he talks of DUTY.

Wilson Loses in Shoot-Off

Jim Wilson, crack skeet-shooter from Columbus, tied for the small-gauge state championship but lost to Sibley Ward of Little Rock in the shoot-off, in the state meet this week-end at Batesville.

Wilson and Ward each broke 49 out of a possible 50 targets. It required three rounds of 25 targets each to settle the shoot-off.

In the small-gauge contest George Wiley of Hope also placed, running sixth with 45 out of 50 targets. Johnny Wilson of Columbus broke 43 in the same shoot.

In the 20-gauge event Jim Wilson placed seventh, breaking 48 out of 50, the event being captured by Homer Turnage of Little Rock with a perfect 50. Johnny Wilson of Columbus broke 44; Charles Wilson of Columbus broke 42; Leo Robins of Hope, 40; and George Wiley, also of Hope, 39.

OPA Price Checking Plan Investigated

Little Rock, July 6 (AP) — A statewide check on retailers' compliance with priceposting regulations of the Office of Price Administration was started today by 14 inspectors, OPA associate inspector Edsal E. Murray announced today.

The inspectors went to Fort Smith, Harrison, Jonesboro, Pine Bluff, Camden, El Dorado and Hot Springs and will go from those points to other cities.

Unemployment Tax in Arkansas to Be Cut

Little Rock, July 6 (AP) — Workmen's compensation insurance premiums will be reduced in Arkansas from two to 30 per cent, retroactive to Dec. 5, 1941.

Estimating the reduction would amount to $200,000 annually, the workmen's compensation commission announced about 600 firms would be affected. The reductions are based on the accident experience of employers since the compensation law has been effective. They will apply only to employers paying annual premiums of $400 or more.
